Southern Meadows has golf lessons for all levels of golfer. Whether you are an absolute beginner, a scratch golfer who wants some help or anywhere in between, our resident PGA Professional can get you on the right track.

Mike Clawson is a PGA of America Member with a long career of instructional experience successfully teaching all levels of golfers.

Don't get bogged down with computerized swing analysis comparisons to a Tour Model's swing. Many teaching professionals rely heavily high-tech solutions in their marketing to attract customers. But, interpretation of swing data can be a subjective analysis, not accounting for individual differences and variations in technique.

A good golf swing is rhythm, balance and technique; poetry in motion. To achieve this there is no substitute for a keenly trained eye of a good teacher. Mike can detect swing flaws by observation and come up with solutions that anyone can understand and perform.

Shouldn't we all take golf lessons that increase our enjoyment and love of the game of golf and decrease frustration?
